Certificate

The expiry date provided on our Oxygen Absorbers is a guide to gain optimal results, the oxygen absorber should be put to use or "activated" by the expiry date. Expiry dates can be up to 18 months from the date of production. Oxygen Absorbers can be safely used right up to the date of expiry as they will only be activated once opened and then will immediately start to oxidise.

The expiry date assumes that over the time of storing the Oxygen Absorbers they have not been compromised, have remained in the original sealed package away from high temperatures and direct sunlight and stored at room temperature.

Your sincerely
